

I have been horrified by the soft pornography I have been seeing on regular broadcast television. Just recently, PBS, a tax sponsored network, had a man having intercourse on top of a woman in some uncut movie screening. On local networks, during daytime programming, an uncut showing of "The Shining" had full frontal, full body nudity. An uncut showing of "Equius" provided the same level of nudity. And this was several years ago.

Today's reality programs show unscripted voyeurism where men and women jump into bed together on a daily basis. Now we have women kissing women via Britney and Madonna televised as news.

When will it stop? Why have you not done anything about this? Please take action on this when you have your Task Force meetings.

Thank you, I know you will do the right thing.
